Don't forget your swimsuit, as Corinthia will welcome you with open arms!

Lastly, you can explore the magic of Mylokopi Beach, divided into Small and Big Mylokopi, offering enchanting moments with crystal-clear water.

Corinthia has the rare privilege of being washed by two seas: the Corinthian Gulf to the north and the Saronic to the east. The two coasts are entirely different — the northern one open, pebbled, looking across to the mountains of central Greece; the eastern one a series of sheltered coves with pines and calm water. Below are all the beaches we have recorded, from the fully organised to the deserted.
