Kato Diminio

About

Kato Diminio is a seaside village on the Corinthian Gulf, 20.2 km north-west of Corinth and about 2.4 km from Kiato.

What to expect

It is one of the largest villages in the Municipality of Sikyonia, with 1,198 permanent residents in the 2021 census. It is known for its beach and the 'Pefkia', a small pine wood running parallel to the shore. The municipal beach has repeatedly been awarded a Blue Flag, and many residents work in tourism.

Closest points

- Kokkinia — 1 km
- Paralia — 1.2 km
- Pasio — 1.7 km
- Diminio — 1.7 km

Practical notes

- Shade under the pines, right by the sea.
- In July and August the beach is busy.
- Easy access from Kiato and its suburban railway station.
