Lykoporia Beach

About

At the western end of the Corinthian coast, the beach at Lykoporia is one of the longest and least crowded in the region.

What to expect

Pebbles, deep and very clear water, and an open view across the gulf to the mountains of central Greece. Because the shore is long, you can find space even in August.

The area belongs to the Derveni–Lykoporia stretch, one of the quietest coastal zones in Corinthia.

Practical notes

- Reached from the old national road, near Derveni.
- Some sections are organised, others not at all.
- Water shoes are advisable on the pebbles.
