Froutoplanites in Kiato: an indoor playground and café for the whole family

About

At 1B Miaouli Street, in the centre of Kiato, Froutoplanites is a "fruity world" for little ones and grown-ups alike: an indoor playground where children play safely and, right next to it, a café where parents can sit back and relax.

The business in this article is a Visit Corinthia partner. We describe it using what it says about its own work; hours and details may change, so check its page before you go.

Play all year round

The play area is indoors and supervised, with a ball pit, climbing frames and colourful little tables for drawing and activities. Because it is covered, it works just as well in winter as in summer — an easy afternoon outing after school. There is also an outdoor play area with a slide and a playhouse.

Coffee for parents, in the same space

The café is in the same room as the children, so you can keep an eye on them while you enjoy your coffee or drink. There is a covered terrace, sofas and Wi-Fi.

Children's parties and birthdays

The room can be set up for children's birthday parties, with decorations and a table for the kids, by arrangement with the venue. A phone call is all it takes to check dates and details.
